

Pendleton County Schools
Non-Traditional Instruction (NTI) Days
Frequently Asked Questions

What is an NTI Day?

The NTI days will allow Pendleton County students to continue learning on days when school must be cancelled due to inclement weather, illness, etc. On days where NTI days are used, students will have assignments (either online or paper packets) to complete at home or in the daycare setting.

Will an NTI day be used every time that school is cancelled?

No, we may not use an NTI day every time that school is cancelled. Pendleton County Schools has been approved for up to ten NTI days for the 2021-2022 school year. The superintendent will determine whether schools are closed or operating on an NTI day.

How will I know which day is an NTI day?

Listen carefully to the district's "All Call" messages, radio and television stations. The announcement will also appear on the district's social media accounts. You will be told when a day is an NTI day and on these days, students should follow the NTI plan for their school.

What are teachers and staff doing on NTI days?

As weather permits, teachers and staff will report to work. Teachers and staff will be available on NTI days to assist students or parents by phone, email, and Microsoft Teams etc.

Do I have to have internet and access to a computer?

No. Students without internet access may receive their assignments on a flash drive or an instructional packet. All elementary students will receive packets.

How will students turn in their work on the NTI days?

Students will complete assignments through online programs they are familiar with, on their flash drives or paper packets. The flash drives and paper packets will need to be turned into their teacher upon the return to school.
